Warplanes Set for Show

"Wings of Eagles" is the theme for the annual 1941 Airshow at the National Warplane Museum in Genesee Sept. 18-20.

Located at the Genesee landing strip, the airshow will feature more aircraft than previous airshows, according to museum founder and president Austin Wadsworth. Also featured will be aerial acrobatics, simulated dogfights and divebombing demonstrations.

About 70 warbirds are expected to be displayed at the show, making it the largest display of war planes in the state. Aircraft expected to be at the show include three B-17's, as well as fighters, bombers, aerobatic aircraft and other types of vintage warplanes.

The museum B-17, known as the "Fuddy Duddy", in honor of the crews that flew the original "Fuddy Duddy" during World War II, will be honored in a dedication ceremony.

Based in Rattlesden, England, the "Fuddy Duddy" flew about 80 missions until it was destroyed in a mid-air collision over Mannheim, Germany, in 1944.

Crew member of the "Fuddy Duddy" are expected to be in attendance at the dedication ceremony, scheduled for 10 a.m. Sept. 20.

Airshow organizers expect to have several DC-3s, a C-130 on skis, a TBM, two C-45s and Air Force C-47, a Corsair, a Mustang, a Skyraider, a B-25, a RB-24, a P-47, a T-28, several T-6's and a Piper ambulance airplane from World War II, among many other aircraft.

Various aircraft will do 'fly-bys' and 'buzz' the field throughout the three days of the show. A flyover by a B-52 also is expected.

The Six of Diamonds Precision Flight Team will perform and there is a possibility two Harrier Jets will be on hand to demonstrate their capabilities as well, Wadsworth said. A P-51 and T-28 are scheduled to perform aerial acrobatics.

The airshow also will feature simulated dogfights, divebombing and a strafing mission about 3 p.m. Sept. 19 and 20. A pumpkin drop is scheduled for 2 and 4 p.m. Sept. 19 and 20.

Numerous World War II military vehicles from Rochester and Buffalo will be on exhibit, as will antique automobiles from the war era, Wadsworth said.

Gates to the airshow will open at 7 a.m. each day. Free parking is available. Pilots are welcome to fly in but the field will be closed to fly-in traffic from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday and Sunday.
